NO. 5

SCHLEY,

It Is Said, Will Be Put Forward
For President

By the Anti-Bryan Contingent of the Democratic Party.

The following was sent out from Washington a few days since:

In view of the announcement that ex-Gov. Stone had succeeded Senator Jones as Chairman of the National Democratic Committee, and that he will take charge of the campaign for the party, it is now said that he is contemplating sidetracking William J. Bryan by putting forward a war hero as a candidate.

The failure of those Democrats to entice Admiral Dewey to become a candidate on their ticket has caused the various anti-Bryan leaders to look elsewhere for a savior for their party. It is now reported that the Democrats who are to meet at Saratoga next week will arrange a plan to carry out Gov. Stone's idea. It is reported that Croker has sent word to leaders that he deems it best to ignore silver altogether and make the anti-trust plank the strongest one in their platform.

If this is so the Democrats claim that Judge Van Wyck, who is now the general counsel for one of the biggest trusts, could not be a candidate, and that they must have a war hero at the head of the ticket.

It is just here where Gov. Stone expects to get in his fine work and bring forward a Democrat who is also a Southern man and who has a record in the war. This man, so the Democrats in Washington say, is none other than Rear Admiral Winfield Scott Schley.

They are banking upon the fact that the Navy Department, in their persecution of him, has made him exceedingly popular, not only in the South, but all over the country, and that he is the very man to put against Bryan as the Democratic nominee for 1900.

Bracken Association of Baptists.

Bracken Association of Baptists met at Carlisle. It was the 100th session of that body. There were more than one hundred delegates and visitors present. The history of the organization, read by Dr. Z. T. Cody, of Georgetown, and two doctrinal sermons, one by Dr. W. C. Harvey, of Louisville, and the other by Rev. J. W. Porter of Maysville, will be published in pamphlet form, and will be greatly sought after. It will be about twelve months before Dr. Cody's history will be ready for the publishers, but the other two able productions will be placed before the people within the next few months.

All church objects were represented by committees, and indications are encouraging for a bright future. The ministers in charge are all young men of talent, impressed with a sense of duty, and they are backed by a vigorous young laity.

Rev. Cleon C. Keyes was there and an eye having been operated on his vision was much improved. It was really refreshing to observe the demonstrations of love between this patriarchal brother and the young ministers.

W. R. Nunneley, of this city, was re-elected moderator, and as heretofore, made a good one; while Mr. C. N. Boling made a most excellent and acceptable secretary.

J. W. Hedden received the highest compliment within the gift of that body by being made associational delegate to the Southern Baptist Convention which meets at Hot Springs, Ark., in May, 1900. The honor was greatly appreciated.

The Association adjourned to meet with the church at Ewing the first Wednesday in August, 1900.

The Carlisle people, regardless of denomination, know exactly how to entertain. Our Mt. Sterling people can't keep secrets, for each came from Carlisle ready to wager (if wagering was in order) that he or she had the best home. We, that is, the Rev. Mr. Bolin and the editor, were at the home of Mr. Hanson Kennedy, and a more delightful time we could not even fancy. If our Baptist folk even up with other denominations when their bodies meet in Carlisle they will have a time of it. M. E. Conference of Kentucky will meet in Carlisle the last of this month, when each family will vie with the other on the question of entertaining.

EX-GOV. ATKINSON DEAD.

One of the Democratic Leaders in Georgia.

Former Gov. W. Y. Atkinson died at his residence at 8.52 o'clock last Tuesday. He had been ill for ten days, and his physicians gave up hope for his recovery several days before.

Gov. Atkinson was one of the leaders of the Democratic party in his State. He was elected Governor in 1894, at the age of thirty-nine, after having served six years in the House of Representatives, being Speaker of that body for several sessions. In his first gubernatorial race he defeated Clement A. Evans, a noted Confederate veteran, and in this campaign he broke down the prestige Confederate veterans previously had for obtaining public favor. His second race was against Seaborn Wright, a combination Populist and Prohibition candidate. During the Spanish-American war Gov. Atkinson took great interest in the organization of the volunteer regiments for service and obtained many concessions from Washington for the Georgia soldiers.

Since the expiration of his last term as Governor he had been engaged in the practice of law at Newnan, Ga.

Let's Have a Fair.

Large crowds from this city attended the Elk's Fair at Lexington last week. It looks as if the interest in old time fairs has been somewhat revived in this part of the country. What is the matter with Mt. Sterling exercising herself in the interest of a fair this year. We have one of the best mile tracks in the State, and with little cost can arrange for a few days of excellent sport.

QUININE JIM

Says Goebel is An Able Man and a Wise and Strong Leader.

Just the Kind of Man Needed to Deal With Mountain Feudists.

HE WILL SUPPORT THE TICKET.

In answer to an inquiry, former Congressman James A. McKinzie says:

"I shall support the Democratic ticket nominated at the Louisville convention from top to bottom. I regard Mr. Goebel as not only a very able man, but a wise and strong leader, who possesses the qualities necessary to make an excellent Governor. He is just the kind of man needed to deal with the feudists in Clay and other counties. In my opinion his nomination was obtained just as fairly as the result would have been reached had either of his opponents been chosen. The convention was as regular and fair as the ordinary convention. I repeat that I shall support the regular Democratic ticket from end to end."

A man talks about owning his business. But, as a matter of fact his business owns him. His whole life is regulated by the demands of the business. The time at which he rises, his breakfast hour, the time given to meals, are all determined by business obligations. He rushes through lunch because he "can't spare the time from business" to eat leisurely. He won't take a rest because he is needed at the store or office. He is in fact an absolute slave to business. The results which follow this slavery are to be seen on every hand. Men dyspeptic, irritable, nervous, with drawn faces, and hollow eyes, sit at the desk or stand behind the counter until they collapse in a fit of sickness, or are taken away by heart failure. Those who cannot escape the exactions of business will find a friend in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It strengthens the stomach, increases the action of the blood-making glands, increasing the vitality and physical vigor. It makes men strong and prevents those business break-downs which so often terminate fatally.

An effort is being made to get Bryan to make two speeches in the mountains of Kentucky during the campaign.

The following is a list of the Campaign Committee appointed by A. W. Young:

POOR BETTINA GIRARD.

One-Time Stage Favorite Sent to Jail Again in New York.

Bettina Girard, the former society belle of Washington, wife of Arthur Pateford, baronet and millionaire, and petted favorite of the stage, has been again sentenced to Blackwell's Island for drunkenness. She was found in a low quarter of New York City entertaining a crowd on the sidewalk with negro melodies. Her father (ex-Governor of Dakota) died a short time ago of a broken heart, and this time no one appeared in her behalf.

Ingersoll on Shakespeare.

Shakespeare was an intellectual ocean, whose waves touched all the shores of thought, upon which were all the lights and shadows, and over which brooded all the calms and swept all the storms and tempests of which the soul is capable. Shakespeare harvested all the fields of dramatic thought, and from that day until now there have been but gleaners of straw and chaff.—Ingersoll.

LEOLA MOSS

Accidentally Shot and Killed By Her Brother.

Related to the Moss Families of This County.

Leola Moss, the seven-year-old daughter of William Moss, who lives three miles from New Castle, Henry county, was accidentally shot and killed by her brother at their home on Tuesday. He was cleaning a revolver and had taken out all the cartridges and laid it down, leaving the room, when a younger brother, Louie, came into the room and picked up the weapon, putting one cartridge in the cylinder. When the elder brother returned to the room he playfully pointed the pistol toward his sister and pulled the trigger, killing her instantly. The remains were buried at Eminence on Wednesday.

The dead girl was a niece of Mrs. C. D. Redmond, of this city, and Herbert, Ray, and Oscar Moss, of this county.

NOVEMBER FIFTEENTH

Fox Hunters Will Chase Sly Reynard at Estill Springs.

The committee of the National Fox Hunters Association, composed of L. S. Rousseau, Lebanon, Tenn.; Capt. Hathaway, Winchester; Roger Williams, Lexington; Dr. J. W. Hale, Dallas, Texas, and Ed. Walker, Hammock, Ky., held a meeting at the Phoenix Hotel, Lexington, Thursday at noon for the purpose of selecting a place for holding the next hunt. Estill Springs was the principal place contending for the hunt, and as a number of citizens of that place were before the committee urging its selection, the committee selected it and named November 15th as the day for the hunt. It is expected that a large number of the members will be present and a fine time is looked for.

A Georgia Opinion.

If ever a man had to fight his way, not only in politics, but through his life, this man Goebel is he. His career is a magnificent illustration of the possibilities of brains, energy and integrity—that combination which insures success in every line of endeavor. From a bare-footed little newsboy to the Governorship of his State is a long stride forward, but every inch of this way has been honestly won, and to-day in the hour of his triumph Goebel can have the satisfaction of feeling that it is due to himself, and himself alone.—Atlanta Constitution.

REMARKABLE OLD MAN.

Never Saw a Train and For Forty Years Drank Half a Gallon of Whisky Daily.

William Henderson, father of Jefferson Davis Henderson, a Middleboro school teacher, died at his home, at the head of Clear Creek, at the extreme age of ninety-four years. Mr. Henderson had passed a remarkable life. From a youth he has drunk, chewed, and smoked, for forty years of his life drinking half a gallon of whisky a day. He was born in the same house in which he died, and was never farther than eighteen miles from his home in his life. He never saw a train in his life, although living within three miles of the Louisville and Nashville railroad.
